Knowledge

Knowledge Exchange (KE) is a of skills, expertise, technology and information, between the University of Sussex and the . It is any endeavour that translates knowledge and research into meaningful impact that improves and . Our strategy aims to ins says the purpose of the KEF "is to increase efficiency and effe use of public funding for knowledge exchange and to furthe continuous improvement in universities. It will allow univers understand and improve their own performance, as well as provide other users with more information

Research England currently measures KE via the (KEF). The KEF measures our performance as a whole

