Types of academic misconduct

7-8. Personation

'Personation in written submissions is where someone or software (unless explicitly permitted in the assessment guidance from the module convenor) other than the student prepares the work, part of the work, or provide substantial assistance with work submitted for assessment. This includes but is not limited to: Al generated text or responses; purchasing essays from essay banks; commissioning someone else to write an assessment; writing an assessment for someone else in where no benefit is gained by the student producing the assessment); using a proofreader where this is not allowed; using substantive changes proposed by a proofreader or third party (person or electronic service) that do not ad -3.3 (I)1(o)-7 (af2 [(b)-5.3 (a)h)5.3 (a0.6 (th)5.2 U(a)2.7 (n)3.2 f)73.2 (v)-2.(o)-7 (as

Raising a concern of personation

- 1. A case of personation can be be by:
  - a staff member following a concern raised as part of the marking process (based on the assessment being beyond the assessment task set, the assessment being very good but not specifically following the assessment task, an eclectic/overly broad bibliography etc)
  - (ii) a staff member based on information from a student or member of staff;
  - (iii) the exam board (MAB or PAB) based on a concern that the mark for an assessment was significantly higher than the student's other marks and/or the marks of the cohort.

A case cannot be considered where progression/award has already been confirmed by the PAB.

- 2. Standard Notice of Advice to be sent by School to inform student that a concern regarding personation is being considered.
- 3. Investigating Officer to ensure the Academic Misconduct Cover Sheet is completed.
- 4. Investigating Officer to arrange School team meeting and provision provis
