

Updates from the RQI team

Welcome to this newsletter edition from the Research Quality Improvement team. Important news items and from the RQI team page.

The RQI team submitted an expression of interest for participation in the PCE pilot last month, and we are awaiting confirmation of whether we will be included. More information about the pilot exercise is slated to be released in July, so we anticipate receiving confirmation of participation within the next few weeks. You can see REF's timetable for the PCE pilot here.

